Cantina di Negrar

Since creating the first Amarone in 1936, generations of grape growers have tended their vineyards and handed down the region's history and culture on behalf of Cantina Valpolicella Negrar. They share in the pride and joy of belonging to a cooperative winery staffed by people who love their home and make wine by emulating the tradition and beauty of this generous region.

Description

Ruby red color, dense and compact. Big and intense in the nose with persistency and ethereal fruits that show hints of cherries, dried prunes, flowers and sweet spices. Thanks to the appassimento, kept in stores for 120 days, this Amarone is full-bodied and smooth with velvety tannins
